

River Evenlode

Source Start

2

3 Yippeee! A habitat for water vole is created. Swim on one. +1

4

5 YES!

6 Well done! You became a Citizen Scientist. Swim on four. +4

7 Chicken farmer spills poo into a tributary stream. Find another way. Swim back three. -3

8 You try to go swimming but there is too much pollution in the water. Swim back four to cleaner waters. -4

9 You see a kingfisher! Fly on one. +1

10

11 The sewage treatment works releases raw sewage into the river - yuck! Swim back to start whilst you wait for it to be cleaned up. +2

12 A farmer fences off the riverbank to control erosion from cow slippage. Swim on two. +2

13

14

15 Oh no! Invasive minnow have been released into the river! Swim back two. -2

16 You find deer pawprints on the bank! Swim on one. +1

17

18

19 Low, someone's finished a net wire and it's not identifiable. Miss a turn. -2

20 Large amounts of plastic rubbish are found in the polluted stream. Swim back two. -2

21

22 You see a dragonfly emerge from a larva stage! Fly on one. +1

23

24 Oh no, you step on an eel!

25

26 Well done! You wrote to your local MP about pollution issues. Swim on two. +2

27 Himalayan balsam has taken over the bankside. Find another way. Swim back two. -2

28

29 You slip and see one on the bank! You slip so you can't lift your leg. Swim on one. +1

30

31 You learn the difference between a frog and a toad. Hop on two. +2

32 Oh no! Invasive signal crayfish have taken over the river! Swim back two. -2

33

34

35 You see riverfly and know the river is healthy. Celebrate by swimming on two. +2

36 You try to go swimming but there is too much pollution in the water. Swim back three to cleaner waters. -3

37

38

39

Mouth Finish

A quicker route!
 A fish pass is built around a weir to allow fish migration upstream. Swim on!

Slip back down the eel!

Meander

River Bank

"I only eat reeds, and they are nibbled at a 45° angle."

Smooth skin

Long legs

Rough skin

Short legs

